HELD FOR ROBBERY IN JERSEY TOWN

Man Who Had $550 Is Arrested by Police After Being Released

ADMITS ROBBERY

Says He Stole Money Out of Friend's Packet While Latter Slept Last Saturday.

After being released from custody yesterday afternoon a stranger who first gave the name of Gus Mohrwood, forty-one years old, was taken in custody by the police and brought back to headquarters and the police say that he admitted that $550 he had in his possession was stolen on Saturday from a man named A. Gown, Gloucester, N. J.

According to the man, who later gave the name of Frank Spottswood, and who now says his correct name is Frank Smallwood, he stole the roll from the pocket of Gown while the latter was sleep. Chief of Police Goods has telegraphed the New Jersey authorities about the arrest of the man and asking if they want him held.

The stranger fell on the street Tuesday night and had his head badly cut and after being treated at the hospital was given quarters at police station. He said he earned the money as a shipworker and no charge being against him he was released. The police on second thought decided to rearrest him and according to Policeman Durrer and Welker captured him at union station. He was about to have a ticket he purchased for Roanoke redeemed. Smallwood, if that be his name, says the man from whom he took the money is a friend of his and added that the had never done anything of the sort before. Smallwood was first taken in custody by Police Sergt. Campbell.

Chief Goods this afternoon received a telegram signed Charles Vannemeter chief of police, Gloucester, N. J., requesting that Frank Smallwood be held for robbing A. E. Gown.

New U. S Battleship Tennessee A Failure, King Tells Senate

Washington, May 26.—Senator King, Democrat, Utah, told the Senate yesterday that he had been informed that the electric drive system adopted for American warships, had failed badly in the case of the superdreadnaught Tennessee, which soon is to join the Pacific fleet.

Senator Poindexter, Republican Washington, a member of the Naval Committee, said that while motors on the Tennessee had burned out on two occasions, these defects had been remedied, and that she would sail this week to join the Pacific fleet.

"My information is," said Senator King, "that the electrical propulsion on the Tennessee can be induced to bring the ship up to her maximum speed, and hold her there for a few down when called upon to maintain the speed any reasonable period. I am informed that though she has been in commission a year, attempts to get her in shape to meet the tests have all failed. Notwithstanding the Navy Department is proceeding to install the same drive on other vessels under construction."

Senator Wadsworth Republican New York, said he had visited the Tennessee at Hampton Roads with President Harding and had been told the vessel was not seriously damaged by machinery mishap.

"All officers agree it would be folly to abandon the electric drive," he added.

Senator Poindexter told the Senate that all necessary steps had been taken by the navy to eliminate the defects developed on the Tennessee, and that the electric drive system was a "remarkable success putting our vessels ahead of any other in the world."

THE COAL SITUATION

The present summer prices of coal cannot be guaranteed after this week. The United States Geological Survey declares that coal may reach last year's level. Each day coal becomes more in demand, and as the supply of anthracite coal in the U. S. is limited, the prices will go accordingly.

We honestly suggest that all "Fannon patrons" definitely place their orders THIS WEEK.

SENATE FOR PARLEY ON DISARMAMENT

Adopts by Vote of 74 to 0 Borah's Amendment

TEXT OF AMENDMENT

LaFollette's Long Speech Prevents Final Action on Measure Being Taken.

Washington, May 26.—Acting as one man, the Senate late yesterday afternoon adopted the Borah proposition requesting the President to call a three-power conference to discuss reductions in naval armaments and expenditures. There was no debate on the amendment offered by Mr. Borah to the big Naval Supply bill, and in suggesting his amendment Mr. Borah asked for a record vote. The roll call resulted 74 to 0.

The text of the amendment follows: "That the President is authorized and requested to invite the Governments of Great Britain and Japan to send representatives to a conference which shall be charged with the duty of promptly entering into an understanding or agreement by which the naval expenditures and building programs of each of said Governments, to wit, the United States, Great Britain and Japan, shall be substantially reduced annually during the next five years to such an extent and upon such terms as may be agreed upon, which understanding or agreement is to be reported to the respective Governments for approval."

An almost identical amendment was added to the Naval Appropriations measure last session. A determined sentiment in its favor developed throughout all sections of the country, and its acceptance was urged in thousands of letters received by Senators, but the Naval bill failed of passage.

With the beginning of this Congress Senator Borah reaumed insistent demands for the addition of a disarmament feature to the Naval bill. Republican leaders, supposedly acting under suggestions from the President, declared the amendment must not be adopted. It became evident that a bitter fight would follow this attitude, and perhaps the economic faction would win in the end. The leaders changed front and instructed all Republican Senators to vote their convictions when the time came.

The general opinion is expressed that the House will accept the Borah amendment, although a disposition is manifested among the leaders on that side to antagonize it, just the same as those in the Senate did at the outset. It is predicted that in such a case the House will runaway with the leaders and add the disarmament request to the Naval bill.

Another fight is coming over the dry dock at Charleston, S. C. All funds for that dock were eliminated from the bill.

It deevloped today that in order to save the personnel item, increasing the strength of the navy from 100,000 to 120,000 men, some log-rolling was done which resulted in 14 Democrats who favor the dry dock voting for the personnel appropriation. In order to reciprocate, the amount for the dry dock must be restored and attempts to do so will be made when the bill is completed in all other respects.

With the Borah amendment incorporated an effort was made to reach a vote on passage of the bill late today, but this was frustrated by debate arising on minor amendments. Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, and King, Democrat, Utah, also had several amendments pending. The latter promised to introduce several to abolish what he termed "useless" navy yards and depots.

Entered at the Postoffice at Alexandria, Virginia, as second class matter.

Two Centuries and a Half of Glory.

Surely from no place more than from Alexandria should go out to the noble old city of Fredericksburg felicitations upon the observance of the 250th anniversary of her birth. The two cities are closely akin in traditions, achievments and the ties of brotherhood; they have faced many trials together, shared much of a common history, side by side been baptized in blood and glory.

The history of Fredericksburg has been a proud one, from the days of Captain John Smith, Buckner and Royston on down. She has been the Spartan-souled city of the Old Dominion over which wars and rumors of wars have swept in successive waves of fire and carnage. Powhatan, the powerful monarch of the four redskin tribes, once loved to hold his wigwam court within her tented walls. Major Lawrence Smith and his little band of colonial troops heroicly defended her against a ruthless foe. George Washington and John Paul Jones were students within her gates. And Suky Livingston made a name for herself and her little inn that still is remembered by the queer sign over the old Fredericksburg door, "Walk in gentlemen and make yourself at ease, pay for what you call for and call for what you please." Through the Indian wars, the Revolution, the Civil War, always in the thick of it, Fredericksburg has borne herself with a dignity and grandeur of strength and character which makes her story one of the proudest chapters in Virginia history.

Another Speech of Mr. Harvey's.

What a captivating chapter in the annals of Colonel George Harvey has been resurrected for us by Representative Stevenson of South Carolina.

It seems that in 1906 Colonel Harvey made a speech before the St. Andrew's Society of Charleston, S. C., afterwards published in his book, "The Power of Tolerance," in which, after telling all about his Puritan ancestors, he made the following remarkable statement:

"At the outbreak of the Civil War, of my immediate ancestors living, were two grandfathers, my own father and nine uncles. They were northern men, not one of them had crossed the Mason and Dixon line. They regarded slavery with abhorence, but not one of those twelve men ever lifted a hand against his white brother in the South. From their meager store and from necessity eleven of them furnished the Federal Government with sums of money fixed for the procurement of substitutes. One uncle, perhaps the best able of the twelve to do so, absolutely refused and chewed the end of bitter reflection for nearly two years in the county jail. I make no boast of this action. I claim for them no credit. Whether at the time, under those circumstances, I should have done as they did, I do not know, but the facts are family history and constitute the basis of my assertion that I have an absolutely and unqualified right to speak to you men of the South the words of a fraternal heart."

Consummate diplomatic bungler that the bitter-tongued defamer of Woodrow Wilson was in 1906, to have gotten up before a group of red-blooded Southern men and boasted that twelve of his ancestors were slackers! Imagine what a hit he made with that Southern audience.

George Harvey is running true to form and to family style. No wonder he told the British we went to war to save our skins. That seems to have always been the first and foremost consideration with the Harveys.

AGED PAIR, DIVORCED IN 1897, TO REMARRY

Trenton, May 26.—Henry Clay Wells, 74 years old, of this city, and his former wife, Mrs. Rachael Davis Wells Ellsmore, 70 years old, of Yanango street above Fifteenth, Philadelphia, who were divorced in 1897, have renewed the romance of their younger days and will be married for the second time here Saturday, by Rev. Dr. Steinmetz, of St. Michaels Episcopal Church. The marriage license was issued at the City Hall here yesterday.

While separated for more than a score of years each asserted that their love had never died. Two daughters now grown up and living in Philadelphia, who were born to the couple, will attend the wedding.

Domestic differences led to the divorce. Mrs. Wells several years later married George Ellsmore, of Philadelphia, who died in 1916. Wells did not remarry and about two years ago came to Trenton. He is employed in the City Rescue Mission.

ALLIES BAR DIESEL MOTORS FOR U-BOATS

Paris, May 26.—As a further move to effectively disarm Germany, the Council of Ambassadors today refused to permit the retention of the anti-tank guns on which the former great German General Staff placed so much dependence, but which had little or no opportunity to prove their effectiveness before the armistice.

The council also heard reports of experts regarding the execution by the Berlin Government of its promises to so modify the Diesel motors that they would be serviceable for industrial use only, and be made unavailable for any U boats that might be built, secretly, or otherwise.

Cadets' Bucket Brigade Battle Blaze Which Cuts Danville Military School

Danville, Va., May 26.—Fire between 9:30 and 11 last night totally destroyed the Danville Military Institute mess hall, laundry, storerooms and the commandant's residence. The main barracks were saved through the placing of cadets on the roof who showered water from buckets.

Colonel R. A. Burton said last night that he thought defective insultation in the basement ignited the building. Ten minutes after he had left it he heard cries of fire and saw one wing ablaze.

Practically nothing was saved and the fire had to burn itself on because it was beyond the range of water. The loss is about $25,000, most of which is covered.

Thousands flocked to the scene, attracted by the flare. The final exercises at the college concluded today.

SPORTS

TRIPLE A'S VICTORIOUS

The A's motored to Fredericksburg yesterday, arriving there ten minutes before the game was called. Hungry and tired, they entered the battle and proved their metall by defeating them at a 6 to 3 score.

Fredericksburg made their three runs in the first inning, and the A's made six in the second, after the second inning it was a no hit no run game. Both teams settled down and played professional ball. Quayle, star twirler for the A's, left the mound with 18 strike outs to his credit.

Jacobs, who held the mound for Fredericksburg, is a Virginia state twirler on the Newport News line up, but that meant nothing to the A's, as they are all heavy hitters and hammered him the same as they hammered all pitchers who faced them this season. A two base ruling was made, on all hits in the crowd, therefore the A's last credit for several possible home runs.

Sensational fielding was done by every man on the A's. Savage and Steele, both catchers for the A's, were badly hurt, but even that couldn't shake the A's from their steady machine like work.

Freedricksburg claims that Jimmy Quayle is the steadist and best twirler they have ever faced.

Eight thousand fans witnessed the game.

The A's will journey to Leesburg Memorial Day, May 30, to play the favorites of that city, an invites all fans to go with them. The A's hold as good as the best record in this section, winning 11 out of 13 games played. They also wish to announce that they have made arrangements for an excursion on the river for June 13th. This is the first excursion from Alexandria this season. Join the merry throng. Get your tickets now. Don't forget the date.

Alexandria Sunday School Base Ball League stock went soaring yesterday afternoon at Baggett's field. The reason for this was that the Southern Methodist ball team and that representing the Trinity M. E. Sunday School put up a real exhibition of the national pastime.

The Southern Methodists won without a great deal of difficulty but not without some excellent playing and some real opposition from the enemy. The Trinity battery was Upton and Corsa while Morrison and Stickly did the honors for the Southern Methodists, and there was no change in the line-up of either team throughout the game.

The Southerners got their first run in the second inning, following with a second in the third. Trinity promptly secured two in their half of the third and tied the score. Both teams blanked in the fourth and fifth but the Southerners secured two more in the sixth and one in the seventh, while the best Trinity could do was one in their half of the sixth.

Features of the game were the remarkable improvements in the playing of both teams; the splendid pitching and the magnificent support back of it whenever it wabbled any, and last but very significant, was the excellent umpiring of Payne. A large crowd witnessed the game.

Holds Low Necks And Bare Legs Cause of Mosquito Invasion

Chicago, May 26.—River Forest is one of Chicago's exclusive residential suburbs. All has always been quiet and serene in the village until a few weeks ago, when swarms of mosquitoes armed with well whetted drills appeared on the scene.

With one accord the residents "hit" on the village administration, charging that failure to oil a tract of low ground on the Des Plaines river resulted in the coming of the plague. Here is part of what Arthur Pohlman, superintendent of streets for the village, told a delegation of "kickers" today.

"The oiling of the swamp isn't the half of it. The mosquitoes aren't much worse this year than before but they are receiving more encouragement. It used to be that a mosquito with a normal set of tools could wear out his drills in an hour or two and go back to his swamp to die of chagrin.

"Now look at the styles. They're wearing 'em higher and they're rolling 'em down and even a mosquito can see the answer to that. The people who are howling the loudest are the ones who are inviting the mosquitoes to a free lunch every night.

"Pretty soon I'll be getting complaints that the bugs don't sing in the right key. You just can't please everybody."

TAFT, HARDING'S CHOICE FOR BENCH, IT IS SAID

Washington, May 26.—President Harding's present intention is to nominate William H. Taft to be chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, Unless there is some change of mind the nomination will be sent to the Senate within the next few days.

It became known last night that Mr. Harding and Mr. Taft have been in communication indirectly, and that Mr. Harding has let it be known to Mr. Taft that he would be glad to nominate him for the high judicial position. The word came back that Mr. Taft would be willing to accept such a nomination.

BOY KILLED, MAN HURT AND HOUSES DAMAGED BY LIGHTNING BOLTS

Cumberland, Md., May 26.—A boy was killed, a man was knocked unconscious, and the lives of a half dozen other persons were endangered by lightning accompanying a heavy storm which swept over this section early yesterday morning.

Byron Jenkins, 12 years old, son of Ralph Jenkins, three miles south of Grantsville, was killed by lightning while seated at the window of his home watching the storm. The lightning struck wires and entered the room through the telephone. A brother and a younger sister were knocked down.

Henry McGinnis was struck by lightning while stabling two cows at the home of E. E. Sollars, near Oakland. Prompt medical aid resuscitated McGinnis, although he was in a dazed state for two hours.

Lightning struck the house of Michael J. Minke, Henderson street, tearing off the slate roof and smashing a chimney. The house of George M. Hayes in Frostburg was struck by lightning for the second time in three years.

The storm did great damage to crops at Grantsville, especially potatoes. Calves and chickens were seen floating down the Casselman River.

Catawissa, Pa., May 26.—To have walked more than 4000 miles to get her high school diploma was the record established by Miss Martha Smoczynski, a member of the class of fourteen graduating from Catawissa High School last night. Tributte was paid at the exercises to her eagerness to obtain an education.

She had walked three miles to school each morning and home each night during the four years of the course and had missed not a single day, and had never been brought to school in a conveyance, no matter what the condition of the weather was.

GAVE HER SEVEN YEAR OLD GIRL CHASCO-VIN

Made Her Strong and Well

"For the first time in a long while my seven year old girl is in good health and running about like other little girls. This is due to taking Chasco-Vin, which was recommended to me by three or four different people who had used it. Before that she was languid and just had one cold right after another. But it is so different now. Her health is really fine and I must say that Chasco-Vin deserves all the credit." Mrs. Calufield, 530 South 2nd St., Camden, N. J.

Chasco-Vin is only sold by specially appointed agents. In Alexandria the Chasco-Vin agent is Edgar Warfield, jr., King and Pitt streets.

PROCESSION OF SOFIA SCHOOL CHILDREN BOMBED

Sofia, Bulgaria, May 26.—A bomb thrown into a procession of school children who were observing the national holiday caused 15 casualties. Several of the wounded are expected to die. All those hurt were women or children.

Communists who had expressed hostile sentiments with regard to the parade are accused by the population of having been responsible for the outrage. Many of the communist leaders have been arrested and a mob has burned the Communist Club to the ground.

Don't neglect a cough or a cold until it runs into serious sickness. Pneumonia and consumption often have their beginning in a slight cold. At the first indication of a cold, use
